
DOORS IN DOOR

. . . here this morning. I was thinking of my time coming into Flagstaff the—the first time. It’s been about, I guess, around thirty-eight years ago, maybe forty. I was talking about getting up the hill. There wasn’t no snow, but my little Model-T could hardly get up the hill. It could go thirty miles an hour, but that’s fifteen this way and fifteen this way, you know, over some of these roads we had here. And it was quite a . . .

2 [A brother on the platform says, “Why don’t you give us that Ford poem?”—Ed.] Brother Carl! [“Please.”] No. He’s telling me about a little poem I had one time, of on my Ford. It’s not a good place to give it, Brother Carl.

3 So, we are very grateful. And I had so many nice testimonies this morning, hearing from these brethren, met some of the men.

4 And there was just a minister that just spoke here, a little Spanish brother that gave his . . . the little boy’s time to sing. Wasn’t that wonderful for a six-year-old voice? My, the nicest little voice I ever heard, for a little boy like that.

5 Now, this brother, the brethren forgot it, but he is holding a meeting here in your city. I think it’s down at the church of God, or Assemblies of God? [The brother says, “Assemblies.”] Assemblies of God, down at the Assemblies of God. And I’m sure they would appreciate your—your presence. How long is the meeting lasting, brother? [“Through Sunday.”] Through Sunday. [“Sunday night.”] Through Sunday night. [“We’re having a singspiration tonight.”] Sir? [“We’re having a singspiration tonight.”] Singspiration tonight. Now you’re all cordially invited to come to this meeting. [“At seven-thirty.”] Seven-thirty, tonight. And where is the church located, brother? [“113 West Clay.”] Would you just tell us where it is? [“113 West Clay.”] 113 West Clay Street, right here in the city of Flagstaff. And—and I’m sure you’ll . . .

6 Is the little boy with you? [The brother says, “No.”—Ed.] No, his daddy will sing. You sing, do you? Well, that’s fine, I get that just right, for one time. Well, that’s very seldom you see that; but it’s, usually, if there is one talent in the family, it takes from—from the rest of it, I think. So they have . . . [“It all started out in fasting and prayer, Brother Branham.”] Fasting and praying, now that’s—that’s really nice.

7 Now, you know, if America, all together, all of our American families was like that, well, they’d just dismiss all the police force.

Millennium would be on, wouldn't it? We'd be right in first class then. That's right. All death would fade away, all sickness, sorrow, all disappointments, and we would be with Christ.

⁸ So, we are happy, and I hear all these fine testimonies! And had the privilege of meeting Brother Earl, for my first time. And—and last evening I was talking to his wife, and—and she has been called out and healed, several times, in the meetings; said, at the last meeting she was on the platform.

⁹ So, makes us a little, kind of a little sense of humor. I didn't remember Brother Earl, though I had shook his hand somewhere. And—and I was sitting at the window, last night, looking for him to come up. And a great tall man come up, was wearing a black mustache. I said, "Here he comes." And then when . . . Billy, my son, said, "Oh, no," said, "that's not Brother Earl. He is much younger than that fellow." And so then I got to meet Sister Earl here last evening, and had the privilege of being in their lovely home here in the city.

¹¹ This time of fellowship! Old Doctor Bosworth, a friend of mine, many of you might have knowed Brother Bosworth. He was one of the saintliest old man. And he said to me one time, he said, "Brother Branham, you know what fellowship is?"

I said, "I think so, Brother Bosworth."

¹² Said, "It's two fellows in one ship, so they have to share a little bit."

¹³ So that's what fellowship is, we take and give, share with each other; with Brother Carl Williams, all the rest, Brother Outlaw. Oh, one of the first people in Arizona that ever sponsored one of my meetings, was Brother Jimmy Outlaw, and we've been bosom brothers since that time. And we are very happy for all of you, for the ministers and the brethren that we meet around here. I don't have time to shake hands with everybody, as I like to, but it's a fellowship where we get together.

¹⁴ It just reminds me of—of the Phoenix convention. I have had the privilege, since the chapters first started, to—to help organize the chapters and speak in them. And it's the only organization I belong to, and it's not an organization. It's just an organism working among the people.

15 And if some of you men here this morning, that—that doesn't belong to this fellowship, of this Christian Business Men, Full Gospel, let. . . if you believe and will take my word, it's one of the finest groups of people. And—and to minister brothers, it's not against your church, it's for your church. See, it's their way of placing in to the—to the church.

16 I just happened to look around at this lovely lady here that just sang that song a few moments ago. I've heard many attempts of it, but that lady had a voice could carry it right, you know, without squeaking it, like. I liked that so much, lady, it was very, very fine. Said it was a minister's wife here. And, brother, you ought to have her sing you to sleep each night, so that would be very fine, very fine. It was very fine singing. I appreciated it.

17 And, this morning, it kind of reminds me of a little—a little story. That, I—I like to hunt and fish, and that's one of the reasons I'm here in Arizona, so, is getting hunting and fishing. And I like it. And so I was fishing one time in New Hampshire.

18 And I guess I got a lot of partners in here that likes to fish, both in the male and female, too, see. We all like it.

19 So I had a little pup tent I had packed way high, above where, you know the fellows, kind of a little heavy or something, couldn't walk up there. And there was many fine, of those, brook trout, and brown, square-tail, cutthroat. Oh, they're just full, them little tributaries coming down out of the top of the mountains in New Hampshire. And little trout, maybe fourteen, sixteen inches long, just many of them! And I'd only. . . I'd go over there and catch them, just for the fun of catching them, turn them loose. If I killed one, then I—I eat that one, you see, bring him in.

20 So I had some of this old moose willow growing up, and—and every time I'd switch my fly line. . . I had a little Royal Coachman. I'd fly back in there with it, I'd switch it around a bunch of moose willow. And I thought, "Well, I'm going to take a hatchet and go up there, this morning, and—and chop that moose willow down, so that I won't catch my line on it." Oh, I looked back under a little old. . . like a beaver dam, and they were just laying in there, just waiting for that Coachman to get on them. Now, all night long. . . I used to say, "got my hair," but I ain't got enough hair for them to get into now. So I had. . . I just. . . they just how they—how they would watch them. And so I got up there, that morning, took this little old hatchet, and cut down this moose willow. And I had three or four, was going to fix for breakfast, and come back. And I'm not a very good cook. And so I told my wife I couldn't boil water without scorching it, so you know that would be pretty bad job of cooking.

²¹ So, on my road back, there had been an old mother bear and two cubs, and they had got in my little tent. And you talk about rim-wrecking something, you don't know how things could be rim-wrecked till you let a bear get in the tent. He, it's not what they destroy . . . what they eat, I mean, it's what they destroy. I had a little stove, this little sheepherder's stove in there, and they would get on this little stove and just jump up and down, to hear the pipe rattle, and just mash it to pieces, you know. And when I come up, I had a little old rusty .22 rifle laying in there, but I had this axe in my hand.

²³ Well, I thought about my rifle. And I thought, "No, if I'd run in there and grab that rifle, if I'd shoot the old mother, leave two orphans in the woods," and I didn't want to be guilty of that. And, besides, her charging, that twenty-two would be kind of small, you know. And sometimes it didn't go off, have to snap it three or four times to make it go off. So I thought, "Well, I'll just get in that tree there, if she starts over here. I'll get up there in the tree, get me a little switch and just whip them across the nose." Their nose is very tender. And they just squeal, then go down, you know, and they leave you alone. So I thought, "I'll get in that tree."

²⁴ But the curiosity of that little fellow, oh, setting up like this. And I thought, "What's he doing?" So I kept slipping around, watching her, you know, getting a little further away, and getting close to the tree, 'cause she kept cooing to that cub. So I got over a little further, and you know what that little fellow had done?

²⁵ Now, I like flapjacks, or pancakes, I believe you call them, out here. Down South, we call them flapjacks. And I'm not very good at making them, but I'm sure good at eating them. And, you know, I was a Baptist. I don't like to sprinkle; I really like to baptize them, really put the 'lasses to them. So I had me a can of molasses, about this high, setting there, a little half-gallon bucket for my flapjacks.

26 And that little fellow, you know, a bear likes sweet, anyhow. He had got that bucket of molasses open. And he was setting there with that little paw about that wide. And he had it up in his arms, and he was just socking his little foot down, and licking like that, you know. That's right. And he would lick that little tongue. And I started . . . And if I just had a camera, I'd love to have showed that this morning, just to look at it. And there he was, putting his little foot down there, and licking like that. And I hollered, "Get away from there," like that. And he didn't pay any attention to me, and just kept licking like that. He sopped that bucket out, see.

27 And I hollered at him like that, he turned around and looked at me like that. He couldn't get his eyes open, he was just so full of molasses, you know. All over his eyes, his little belly, just as full of molasses as he could be! And then, after a while, he staggered off sideways, run over to his mother. They got him up there in the bushes and started licking him. They was afraid to set at the bucket, but they could lick him.

28 And I said, "If that isn't a type of a good, old pentecostal meeting; just get so full of good, sweet stuff, they go out, and somebody lick off of it. That's a real fellowship meeting. Now we just come like this, to get our hands in the bucket, each one of us, plumb up to the elbow, of God's blessings. And I'm sure you'll find that at the revival that's being down at the Assemblies of God, going on down there now. The Lord bless you.

29 I said in Phoenix, the other day, a little . . . I hope it didn't sound sacrilegious, about a little joke about a minister that would go to the platform every morning, for twenty years, solid, he would preach twenty minutes, and then be done, and so they couldn't understand why it was. And so, one morning, he preached about four hours. And the—the deacons called him back, and—and said, "Pastor, we really love you." Said, "We—we think your messages are wonderful." And said, "We know, as a deacon board, we've watched you and timed you, exactly twenty minutes every Sunday morning." And said, "This morning it was four hours." Said, "We just don't understand."

30 Said, "I'll tell you, brethren." He said, "Every morning, when I go to preach," said, "when you call me to the platform, I reach in and put one of these Life Savers under my tongue. And," said, "in twenty minutes, when that Life Savers is gone," said, "I—I—I am finished," he said, "I know it's time to quit." And said, "What was the mistake this morning, I got a button."

31 Carl Williams, Jewel Rose, real bosom brothers and friends of mine, they went downtown the other day, and got a button about that big around, to give me, and, but I haven't got it this morning. So, we're grateful to be here.

³² Now, does anyone in here know Doctor Lee Vayle? I don't think . . . maybe not. He was a Baptist preacher, Doctor of Divinity, and he has got his degrees. He was a high school teacher, to begin with, and he is a very fine, scholarly man. And my tapes of The Seven Church Ages, I sent them to him, to grammarize them. Because, my old Kentucky "hit, hain't, and tote, and carry, and fetch," that don't go good for people who reads the books, so he was going to grammarize it for me. And then, after he got through, sent it back a couple times, for more statements. Which, the book is going to press now, after about three or four years.

³³ He asked me, he said, "Can I write a book, just my comments?"

And I said, "Well, it's all right, Brother Lee." And I thought . . .

³⁴ Then he said, "I'm going to tell you something." Said, "It's not to be sold; given away."

I said, "Well, then, I'm sure that's all right." See?

³⁵ And so they had a sponsorship, of about ten people to sponsor it, which cost them about fifteen hundred dollars, I think, I understand, for ten thousand of them. And so we—we got them, it all come off the press a couple days ago, and we got just two or three, yesterday, and Billy brought them up. And they're—they're given away. Now, I've never read it, I don't know what he said. But I'm . . . This is by faith. But I'm sure, if you'd like to have one, if you'd just write us, it'll be sent to you, free. See? And it's called Twentieth-Century Prophet.

³⁷ Then I see here in the back. And how many here has ever been in one of the meetings, let's see? I guess practically all of you have. You hear me say, many times, "That shadow hanging over someone." Now, see, if you make a statement, and it isn't the truth, God won't have anything to do with it. You know God is not associated in lies, but He only backs up what is true.

³⁸ So when He told Moses, when He met him back there in the wilderness, in the Pillar of Fire, back in that burning bush. Then when He brought those people out, and those who would follow Moses out, for the journey, then He came down upon Mount Sinai, that same Pillar of Fire, and vindicated that what Moses had said was the truth.

39 Now, God will do that. He always does that. So this Light here, of course, we associate It with God, because It has the same nature and everything that He did when He was here on earth.

40 Then on that, saying, “This person here, I see you’re shadowed to death, a dark shadow.” How many, many of you has heard that said! Well, here just recently in a meeting, there was somebody curious, wanted to see if they could get a picture of that, when It was said. So they . . . There was a lady sitting close, and this man had a camera. And I said, “This lady sitting here, is Mrs. So-and-so,” whatever it is. I said, “She is shadowed to death, but she’s got cancer.” And just then he snapped the picture, ’cause it was close. And there it was, see, that hooded, black cancer of death hanging over the woman. And then the Holy Spirit spoke back again. . .

41 Now, when they put this in the book, they had it cut off, so they just put this in here just till they make another printing of the book. And that’s why you’ll see that loose leaf in there. I think The Voice Of Healing was the one who printed the book.

42 And now it’s absolutely free. And the sponsors back here in the back of the book, who put fifteen hundred dollars in it, just to get it out to the public, let the public read them. So, it’s free, and it’s a nice little book. And I don’t know what the contents is, I’ve never read it; the Father knows that.

43 But see, It was, to me, It’s absolute Truth. That’s what we look for, is Truth. Jesus said, “You shall know the Truth, the Truth shall set you free.” And He is that Truth. He is, Jesus, the Son of God, is the Truth of the Word, because He was the Word made flesh. “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. And the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.” Then, that made Him the Truth, because the Word is the Truth, and He was the Truth.

44 Now when we see Him return in these last days, this great move of God, moving across the nations of the world, gathering a people for the Bride, that is Truth.

45 Years ago, they said, “There was no such a thing as speaking in tongues. It was nonsense.” God promised it, and He proved it to be Truth. That’s right.

46 Someone said, this morning, I believe it was our noble sister there who deals with the children so much about their baptism, she said, “You can hear someone speak in tongues. But, to hear someone sing in tongues, see, it was such a beautiful thing.”

47 I remember my first experience I was at Rediger Tabernacle in Fort Wayne, Indiana. And I was speaking, having a healing service, after the death of—of Brother B. E. Rediger. And Brother Bosworth had been there, Paul Rader. And many of you older men, like me, you remember Paul Rader; and he was a Baptist, and we was, so we were great friends. And so while speaking there, was going to pray for the sick. It was a strange thing to them then. But a lady brought a little boy down, that was crippled, and, as he come across the platform, the vision of the Lord appeared and told him all about what was the matter with the little lad. And I asked the girl to hand—to hand me the little boy.

⁴⁹ Now, God's promise to Noah won't work for us today. God's promise to—to Moses, we couldn't have Moses' Message. Moses couldn't had Noah's message. We got the Message of the hour. We couldn't have had Luther's message. We couldn't have had Wesley's message. This is another time. God allotted His Word to each age. And as that age comes along, He sends someone there to vindicate that Word, to prove that that's true. And now we see in each one then, just like what Jesus said when He was on earth, He said, "You build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers put them in there."

⁵⁰ Now, my people are Catholic, as you know, being an Irishman. Now we. . . Now they—they talk about Saint Patrick, the Catholics claim him. Well, he's just about as much Catholic as I am. They talk about Joan of Arc. They burnt that girl to the stake, for a witch, we all know that, because she was spiritual and seen visions. Course, a couple a hundred years later, they dug up them priests' body, and done penance, and throwed them in the river. But that ain't what it takes, see.

⁵² So we find that our Message is, today, the Message that we have, of, "Come out of Babylon, and be free, and—and be filled with the Spirit, and your lamps trimmed and clear, and, look up, our redemption is drawing near," these things are foreign to many people who breathe and call our lovely Lord's Name.

⁵³ But yet in the midst of all that, we don't have nothing against those people, those denominational people. They're all right, they're fine. They're our—they're our associates in the Gospel, because Jesus said, "No man can come to Me except My Father draws him. And—and all the Father hath given Me, they will come."

54 So, we're only responsible for sowing Seeds. Some fell by the wayside, some different kinds of ground, some fell over and brought a hundredfold. So, we are just Seed sowers. God is the One Who directs It when It's falling. And now we pray that maybe, this morning, there would be a little Seed drop along somewhere, that might encourage someone. And just as a—a—a man . . .

55 To finish my testimony concerning the little lady that I was going to speak of. This lady brought this little baby, a little boy, I guess, about ten, twelve years old, and maybe not that old, 'cause this woman was packing him. And she handed him over. And just then, while I was offering prayer for the child, the little fellow jumped out of my arms and went running down the platform, of about thirty-five hundred or four thousand people. And when they did, first thing they ever seen done, the mother, sitting on the front seat, just fainted and pitched over. And a little Amish girl . . .

56 Are you acquainted with the Amish? I don't know whether you have them out here, long hair, they're very sweet people, and very clean and nice type. You know, in all the Mennonites, or Amish, and so forth, we've not got one record of a juvenile delinquent. Call them funny if you want to, but we—we got something lacking in our homes, that they have. They haven't one record in the courts, of a—of a juvenile misbehavior coming among them. They bring up their children, just in one way, and that's the way they go.

57 And this young lady was a famous pianist, a beautiful young woman, and long, blond hair fixed up in the back. And when she looked across . . . Now, she was Amish, she knowed nothing about Pentecost, and neither did I. But when she looked across the platform, and seen that little boy going, walking across there, she threw up her hands in the air.

58 Now, I know there is fanaticism, and I hope I'm not prone. I—I am not a liar. And I—I'm not. If I'm wrong, I—I am not wilfully wrong, I'm ignorantly wrong.

59 But that girl threw her hands in the air, and that hair fell down across her shoulders, and she started singing in an unknown tongue. And she was playing that hymn, "The Great Physician now is near, the sympathizing Jesus." And when she jumped up from there . . . I know this sounds very strange now. But this girl had never knowed nothing about speaking in tongues, but she was singing in an unknown tongue, "The Great Physician now is near, the sympathizing Jesus." And that piano continually played, "The Great Physician now is near, the sympathizing Jesus." Well, they piled them altars, and down through the balcony, into the floor, people screaming! That girl standing over there, with her face up like that, speaking in other tongues; and, the piano, the ivory keys still moving:

The great Physician now is near,
The sympathizing Jesus,
He speaks the drooping hearts to cheer,
No other Name but Jesus.

⁶⁰ Oh! It's . . . "Eye has not seen, and ear has not heard, what's in store for us." You know what I think? Why would—why would we ever accept a substitute or just something that's a make-belief, when the heavens is full of the genuine, the real Power of God, that can set a soul free, that can do something for us? God bless you. Now, there is so many things.

⁶² Now, I am very grateful for this fine time of fellowship. And this morning I was thinking about a little story I used to tell at the Christian Business Men, about Zacchaeus. Many of you has heard me tell it, about how that this little fellow didn't believe in this discernment, and, of the Lord. Course, I guess, as we have in every age, you see a genuine, then you see an impersonations. And we just have to put up with that. But good, solid thinkers and Scriptural man understand, see. Which, we, and no matter . . .

⁶³ When Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, when she was here on earth, in her ministry, they say that pretty near every woman preacher wore those wings, like, you know, or gowns like that, and packed the Bible.

⁶⁴ Just look at the Billy Graham's is in the land today. But, you know, Billy Graham could never take your place. I couldn't take Billy's place, he couldn't take mine. I can't take yours, and you can't take mine. You're an individual, in God. God made you the way you are, for some purpose. If we would just find our place, and then abide there. If we try to do something different, then, see, we're—we're in somebody else's territory, which we just gaum up the picture of God.

⁶⁶ Now if you try to take the ball away from your own man, you're just messing up your team. Guard your man, see. Keep guarding him, keep the rest of them so he can make the run. And we'll have the touchdown after a while, and Jesus will come, and then it will all be over. The Lord bless you.

67 Now I'm going to the saying about this man, Zacchaeus. And I had him up in this tree, you know, with leaves all pulled around him. And then when he come down out of the tree, he went home with Jesus. And I said, "He became a member of the Full Gospel Business Men chapter." So if there is any Zacchaeus's here, this morning, I hope that you take that good advice and become a member of the Full Gospel Business Men.

You say, "Full Gospel?" Yes, sir.

68 That's the only thing Jesus would have preached in, would have been the full Gospel. That's right. Isn't that right? Sure, for He was the full Gospel. That's right. He couldn't deny Himself.

69 But now I have a few Scriptures wrote out here, of a little, common little text, it won't take me but just a few minutes, if you'll suffer with me. And before we do this . . . Now, in our little fellowship of get-together, and talking about the hands of the bear, in the bucket, and so forth, now let's just brush aside all of this now, and just think we're getting acquainted. And, and we want now to enter into the deep part of the Word.

70 Let us bow our heads now, as we approach It. Cause, we have no right to approach the Word, without speaking to the Author, first.

71 With our heads bowed, our eyes closed, and I trust that our hearts are bowed with our head. I wonder, while I raise my eyes and look over the audience, if there would be someone here would say, in raising their hands, "Brother, minister, remember me in prayer. I am—I am needy today"? God bless you. God bless you. Now He sees your hand. He knows what's beneath your hand, in your heart. May He grant it, is my prayer.

72 Dear God, as we are grateful for this building that we, Your humble children, can assemble ourselves together under here, and just talk and have fellowship, just to be ourselves, as we yield ourselves to Christ, and desire to become more like Him. We are ministering brothers sitting near, Lord, man who are far more capable of standing here to deliver this Word than I, Your unworthy servant, but it has fallen my lot. And, Father, I pray, today, that if I might say something that would not be just according to the will of God, that, before I say it, You would close my mouth; like You did the lions' mouths, one day, so they wouldn't bother Daniel.

73 Father, we ask You now to remember each and every one, every minister. And this revival that's going on here in the city, Lord, down to the Assemblies of God, I pray, dear God, that You will send such a revival in there that this whole city will be stirred by the Power of God, that all these barrooms and wandering children around on the street will be brought to the Throne of God, and be filled with His goodness and with His Spirit. Grant it, Heavenly Father.

⁷⁴ And we pray that today, that if there be man or woman, boy or girl, that's been brought into this meeting this morning, here under the shelter from the snow, that the great Holy Spirit will visit their heart and speak to them, in a mysterious way. Maybe some that's wandered away, that once entertained You, Lord, but now has gone away; bring them back, Lord, this morning.

⁷⁶ Now break to us the Bread of Life, as we open back the pages of the Word, because we know the Bible is of no private interpretation. But, God doesn't need us to interpret His Word, He is His Own interpreter. He said one day, "Let there be light," and there was light. He said, "A virgin shall conceive," and she did. "And in the last days I'll pour out My Spirit upon all flesh," no matter what the world said, He did it. He needs no interpreter. He interprets His Own Words, by making It live and vindicating It to be so. Come to our hearts, Lord Jesus, and interpret to us, today, the things we have need of. We ask it in Jesus' Name. Amen.

⁷⁷ Now in the Bible, if you will turn. I believe I've never had a message that I tried to undertake to speak on, that I never first read the Word. Because, my word will fail, I'm a man. But His Word just can't fail, He is God. So let's turn now for just a little text, and we're going to be out just in just about thirty, forty minutes, the Lord willing.

⁷⁸ On Revelation now, we wish to turn to the 3rd chapter of Revelation, begin with the 14th verse. And we want to read just the portion, it's a Message to the Laodicea Church Age. And I believe, and I—I suppose most all Spirit-filled people and Bible readers believe, could say amen to that, that we are in the Laodicea Church Age, 'cause that's the last age. Listen to the Message of the condition of the church at this time.

And to the angel of the church of . . . Laodicea write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God;

I know thy works, . . . thou art neither cold nor hot: I would that thou wert cold or hot.

So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest thou not that thou art wretched, . . . miserable, . . . poor, . . . blind, and naked:

I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in . . . fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that thy shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcome, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

He that has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

79 The Lord bless the reading of this Word. Now I want to take, for just a few moments, a little text, called, Doors In Door. Doors In Door. Doors In Door. Now this is a very . . . Doors In Door, is three words. Doors In Door.

80 You might say to me, “Brother, there is probably a hundred people here. There, don’t you think that’s kind of a small text, when you have before you a hundred souls?”

81 Well, that, that may be true, the—the text is small. But it isn’t the size of the text, that—that counts, it’s what it is. It’s—it’s what the text says, that counts.

82 Like, I believe it was in Louisville, Kentucky, some time ago, a—a little boy was up in the attic, fooling around with some old trunks up in the garret, and he run onto an old-fashion postage stamp. Well, the first thing in his mind, he might get an ice cream cone for that. There was a collector down the street, so he took off down the street, just as hard as he could go. And said, “What will you give me for this stamp?”

83 The collector looked it over, and it was kind of faded out. He said, “I’ll give you a dollar.”

84 My, that was easy sold. He would have let it went for a nickel, and then been happy for it, to get an ice cream, but it was sold for a dollar. The collector sold it for five hundred dollars. And later, I don’t know just where it did go, it went into the hundreds of dollars. You see, the little piece of paper wasn’t very much, just a piece that you wouldn’t pick up off the floor. But, it wasn’t the paper that counted, it’s what’s on the paper, that counts.

85 And that's the way it is with reading God's Word. It isn't just the paper, the value of the paper, or the size of the paper, it's what's wrote on that paper. And one word is enough to save a world, if it'd be received that way.

86 Some time ago there was . . . I read a story of the days of our noble . . . One of the greatest Presidents I think the nation ever had was—was Lincoln. Not because that he come from Kentucky, but because he was a great man. He was deprived of an education, but yet was—was something in his heart, some purpose.

87 I—I like a man of vision. I like people that's got something they're fighting for, just not just lay around, "Well, ever what comes along will be all right." Oh, be up and at it! And Lincoln never let his education stand in the way; he had something to do. I think every Christian ought to be that way, find your purpose and go do it.

88 Every member of this chapter, just not, "Well, we have a breakfast once a month," that isn't it, "or once every Saturday." Have a purpose in life, something you're going to do. Let's. God has placed you here; do something about it, every member of every church. There is a revival in town. That revival is there for a purpose. Let's get something out of it. Let's do something about it.

89 Mr. Lincoln. There was a man that . . . young fellow, he—he was in the war, and—and he was—he was coward, to begin with. And in the time of duty, he—he—he withdrew from his post; and they found something against him, that he was going to have to be shot. And, oh, he . . . it was terrible. And one young fellow loved him so well, went to Mr. Lincoln, to get a pardon. He was President at the time, in the United States here, and so he went to him for a pardon.

90 And he said to him, as he was getting out of his carriage; and Mr. Lincoln, a tall, bearded, typical southern, skinny. And he said, "Mr. Lincoln, there is a boy that's going to die, in two days from now, be shot, because that he run in time of battle." And he said, "Mr. Lincoln, the boy isn't a bad boy. But all those muskets firing, and—and people dying, he was nervous. And he was so upset, that, he threw up his hands and started screaming." He run up, said, "I've knowed the boy." Said, "Mr. Lincoln, only your name on this piece of paper can spare him. Will you do it?"

91 Course, this Christian gentleman, quickly signed the paper, "Pardoned, So-and-so." Signed his name, "Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States."

92 Went the messenger back as hard as he could. And he run to the cell, he said, "You're free! You're free! Here is Mr. Lincoln's, Mr. Lincoln's signature. You are free!"

93 He said, "Why would you come to mock me, knowing that I die tomorrow?" He said, "Take that away from here, you're only mocking me." And he would not receive it. He said, "No, I—I don't want it." Said, "You're only making. . ." Said, "If that was the—the President," said, "it would have the—the coat of arms, and it would have his right paper."

He said, "But it's his signature!"

94 He said, "How will I know his signature?" He said, "You're just mocking me, you're trying to make me feel good." And he just started screaming, turned his back. The boy was shot the next morning.

95 Then after the boy being dead, and the President's name on this piece of paper, that he was pardoned, then what? And they tried it in the federal court. And here was the decision of our federal courts, which is the ultimate of all of our courts. What they say sometimes, we don't like their decision, but we have to abide by it anyhow, see, because that's the tie post. That's the ultimate. Now, it said this decision, "A pardon is not a pardon unless it be received as a pardon."

96 And that's the way the Word of God is. It's a pardon if It be received as a pardon. And It's the Word of God, It's the power of God, to those who will believe It and accept It.

97 No matter, you're looking at It, and you say, "Oh, that's been tangled up, there's been a million translations, and all that." It might be that to someone.

98 But, to me, It's still the Word of God, "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today, and forever." He is duty bound to stay by that Word.

99 Now He's got to judge the church, someday. And if He judges it by the Catholic church, which they say He will, then which one of the Catholic churches will He judge it by? They different one from the other. If He judges it by the Methodist's, you Baptists are gone. If He judges it by the Pentecostal's, the rest of you is gone.

100 But He won't judge it by the church. The Bible said, "He'll judge the world by Jesus Christ, and Christ is the Word." So you see we're without excuse, It's the Word of God, that He judge us; and no matter how small, one word significance to This, said Revelation 22:18.

101 First, I'll begin in Genesis. God gave the human race His Word, to fortify themselves from death, sin, and sorrow, or any disaster. A chain, of His Words. "Thou shalt not touch this certain tree, for, the day you eat thereof, that day you die." And a chain is only its best at its weakest link. And our souls are pulled over hell, holding to this chain; break one of them, that's all you have to do. Eve never broke a sentence, she broke a Word, by Satan. That was the first of the Book.

102 In the middle of the Book come Jesus, and said, “Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every Word.” Not part of them, just one here and there, but, “Every Word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.”

103 When He was dead, resurrected, and went into Heaven, and returned back and gave John. . . which He said there after His resurrection. Said, “What if. . .” Said, “What will happen to this man?”

104 Jesus said, “What is it to you if he continues till I come?” Knowing not exactly his life would, but his ministry would continue. And He lifted him up, in the 4th chapter of Revelation, and showed him all the things that was to come, that we live in, even to this text today.

105 And then on the 22nd chapter, the last chapter, the 18th verse, He said, “Whosoever shall take one Word out of this Book, or add one word to It, his part will be taken from the Book of Life.” See? So we believe that man lives by every Word of God. I believe it and I know it’s true. How little, it doesn’t matter. It just takes one word, to do it.

106 Thinking about how little and insignificant, seeing that many of my Canadian friends sitting here. I remember I was in Canada when the King George. . . The one I had the privilege of going praying for, when he was healed, with that multiple sclerosis; he was suffering that day, from the sclerosis, and also he had a stomach trouble, an ulcer; as many of you Canadians know, and Americans, also. But seeing him pass down through there, sitting in that carriage, he—he was a king. He conducted himself as a king. His beautiful queen sitting by him, in her blue dress, and as he come down the streets.

107 And a friend of mine, and I, were standing together. And when that carriage passed by, he just turned his head and started crying. I put my hand upon his shoulder, and I said, “What’s the matter?”

108 He said, “Brother Branham, there goes my king and his queen.” Well, I—I could appreciate that.

109 So I thought, “If a Canadian, under the government head, not government head, but still also a government head, of England, and passing the king by, it could make a Canadian cry, and turn his head and weep, what will it be when we see our King?” And to think of it, our part will be the Queen.

110 Then the children was all turned out from the schools, the little children, they was given a little, British flag. The Canadian flag is called something else. Brother Fred, what’s the Canadian flag called? [Brother Fred Sothmann says, “Union Jack.”—Ed.] Union Jack. But they give them a little, British flag, to wave. And when the king passed by, all the little fellows stood out, waving their—their little flag, and screaming to the king. And—and there were bands playing, God Save The King, as he marched through the street.

111 Oh, if you could just get a . . . You'd get a view of what it's going to be at that resurrection there!

112 And when they was instructed, the little fellows, to return back to school as soon as the—the parade was over. And, the little fellows going back, one school missed a little girl. And they went everywhere, to find the little fellow, up and down the streets. And, finally, behind a telegraph pole, stood the little, bitty, tiny, dwarf girl, just crying her little heart out.

113 Well, the teacher picked her up and . . . [Blank spot on tape—Ed.]
“What's the matter? Did you not see the king?”

She said, “Yes, I saw the king.”

Said, “Did—did you not wave your flag?”

She said, “Yes, I—I waved my flag.”

She said, “Well, then, why are you crying?”

114 She said, “You see, teacher, I am so little, the others was standing in the front of me, they were bigger. And I waved my flag, but he didn't see it.” And she was disturbed about it. Well, that might be that King George did not see that little fellow, in stature. He might not have seen her patriotic heart, and how she felt towards him. She was too short.

115 But it isn't so with our King! Oh, the least little thing we do, He sees it. And He knows the very things and thoughts that's in our hearts, whatever we do, what little it is. And how do we serve Him? As we serve each other. If I don't love you, how can I love Him? See? “Insomuch as you've done unto these My little ones, you have done it unto Me.” See?

116 It's the—it's the little things that we leave undone, sometime, that breaks the whole chain, you see, and lets us go free, just denominational-minded, and forget about these little things that really are the—the essential things. Everything, every Word of God, is essential. None of It can be left out. We've got to take every Word of It, just the way It was wrote.

117 “I stand at the door,” said Jesus, in this Laodicea Age, “and knock.” Did you notice, the only church age that He was put out of His church? All the other church ages, He was inside the church. Through the Methodists, and Lutherans, and so forth, He was on the inside, church. But here He is outside, our creeds and things had run Him out of the church. But He is standing out there, still knocking, “He that will hear and open the door, I'll come in with him, sup with them, and give him healing for his eyes, and—and clothes, and give him the riches of Heaven; he that will hear Me knock.”

118 I thought I could think of the name of that artist that drew that picture, painted a picture, rather, of at the door. When he . . . You know, all great pictures first must go through the line, or, the hall of critics, before it can be hung in the Hall of Fame. That original painting now would run millions of dollars.

119 But, see, it's like the Church, has to pass through the hall of critics. We go through. You're going to be called "holy-roller," you're going to be called everything. But if you could only hold your position in Christ, then someday He'll take us to the Hall of Fame. But first we've got to stand criticism. There is where the littleness of us stand, there is where it shows. "He that cannot stand chastisement is an illegitimate child, and not a child of God." No matter how much he's joined church, and whatever he's done, he is still, if he cannot stand chastisement, he's an illegitimate, and he's not a real child of God. But a real, genuine child of God don't care what the world says, everything else is secondary. He's got his mind on Christ, and that settles it. Yes. Whatever Christ says do, he'll do it. Wherever the Lamb goes, they're with Him, wherever. And then you see His appearing, His Presence, and what He does. He is always with His people, His Bride. He is courting her. Someday there is going to be a Wedding Supper.

120 And this artist, however, when it went through the critics, a bunch of critics gathered around this artist. I can't think of his name. I'm trying to think of Michelangelo, but he was the sculptor of Moses' monument. But I can't think of his name. But, however, he said, "Your picture is outstanding," said, "I have nothing that I could say against the picture." He said, "Because, He is holding a lantern in His hand, it shows that He comes, too, in the darkest of night." He said, "And then He is at the door, with His head, His ear, so He won't be . . . be sure not to miss the faintest call. He has His ear turned to the door, and He is rapping at the door." He said, "But, you know, sir, there is one thing that you forgot in your picture."

121 And the artist, taken him a lifetime to paint it, he said, "What is that that I have forgotten, sir?"

122 He said, "No matter how much that He knocked, see, you forget to put a latch on it. There is no latch on the door." If you'll notice the door, there is no latch on it.

123 "Oh," said the artist, "I painted it thus. You see, sir," he said, "the latch is on the inside. You're the one that opens the door. You open the door."

124 Oh, what does a man knock on a man's door for? He is trying to gain entrance. He is trying to get in. He's perhaps got something he wants to tell you or talk over with you. He's got a message for you. And that's the reason people knock at one another's door. They've got some reason to do it. There cannot be that happen without some reason. You would not go to a man's house unless there is some reason to go; if nothing else, to visit, take him a message, or something. There is some reason for a man to go knock on another man's door.

125 Wherever there is a question, there has got to be an answer. There could not be a question without an answer. So that's what we look for in the Bible, these questions of the day, the Bible has the answer. And Christ is that Answer.

126 Now, many important people have knocked at doors, down through the time of life, and many knocked in times past; and there probably, times keep on, there will be many more, important people.

127 Now, the first thing, perhaps, if somebody knocked at your door, if you could, you would slip around and pull back the curtain, see who is there.

128 If you're busy, as we claim we are today, "Too busy to go to church; too busy to do this. And, you know, my church don't believe in that kind of stuff." And, see, we're just a little out of cater, sometimes, from the Word.

129 But you pull back the curtain, then you want to see who is standing there. And if it's a man of importance, quickly you run to the door.

130 Now let's go back just a little bit, and take a few people that's knocked. Let's go back and think of Pharaoh in Egypt, many hundreds of years ago. What if—if Pharaoh, king of Egypt, came down to a peasant's house? And this peasant had been kind of disagreeable with Pharaoh, and he didn't believe his policies, and he differed with him. And—and, but here stands Pharaoh, standing at the door of a—a brick mason or a mud dauber, as we would call them, down in Egypt. And he pulls his curtain back, and there stands the mighty Pharaoh at the door. And he's knocking; smile on his face. [Brother Branham knocks on something—Ed.] Why, that peasant would open the door, and say, "Enter, great Pharaoh, may your humble servant find grace in your sight. If there is anything within my walls, I am as much as a slave to you, Pharaoh. You've honored me above my brethren. You've come to my house, when I'm a poor man. You only visit kings and—and nobles, and important people. And I'm of unimportance. But you—you visit me, you've honored me, Pharaoh. What is it thy humble servant could do?" No matter what Pharaoh would ask, even to his life, he would give it. Sure. It's an honor.

131 Or, say for instance, the late Adolf Hitler, when he was Fuehrer of Germany. What if he would have went down to a soldier's house? And that bunch of little Nazi soldiers all camped around, and, the first thing you know, why, somebody knocked at the door. And the little soldier said, "Ah, I feel bad this morning! Wife, tell them to go away."

¹³² And she slipped over to the door, and pulled the curtain back. She said, "Husband! Husband, jump up, quick!"

"What's the matter? Who is standing there?"

"Hitler, the Fuehrer of Germany!" Oh, my!

¹³³ That little soldier jumped out, got his clothes on, quick, and stood at attention. Walked up there at the door, unlocked the door, and opened up the door, and said, "Heil Hitler!" See, he was a great man, his days in Germany. "What is it could I do?"

¹³⁴ If he had said, "Go jump off the cliff out there," he would done it. Why? There is no more, there is not a greater important man in Germany, in the days of the Nazis, than Adolf Hitler was. He was a great man. And he . . . And, what honor, when he only visits generals and great men, but here he is at a little footman's door! Oh, it would certainly been a great honor to him.

¹³⁵ Well, now, what of Flagstaff? We'll bring it closer to home. What if this afternoon, that—that our President, Mr. Johnson, L. B. Johnson, what if he would get off of a plane, out here somewhere? And now we are all just in one class of people. We're all poor. Maybe one has a little better job, maybe a little better house, but, after all, we're just human. But what if he come down to your house down here, maybe the humblest of us, and he knocked at the door; and you went to the door, and there stood President L. B. Johnson? Why, it would be a great honor. You might differ with him, in politics. But you would be an honored man, to have the President of the United States stand at your door. Who are you or who am I? And there stands Lyndon Johnson at your door! Though you might be a Socialist or Republican, or differ with him a million miles, but yet it would be an honor.

¹³⁶ You know what? Because that you were granted this honor, why, the television would throw it on the screen tonight. Sure. The mid newspapers tomorrow would have headlines in it, in here in the Flagstaff paper, that, "John Doe. The President of the United States flew into Flagstaff yesterday, uncalled for, and just went down, without even invitation, and knocked" at your door. Humble! That President would have a name of being a humble man, as great as he is, to come to mine or your door; we're nobody, then come down and talked to us.

¹³⁷ Why, you'd walk down the street, and say, "Yes, I'm the fellow. The President visited me."

138 “Stand still, let me get your—get your profile. Look straight at me. Now how do you look when you walk away?” You would be an important person. Sure.

139 What if the queen of England would come, though you’re not under her dominion? But it’d be an honor for some of you women to entertain the queen of England, though you’re not under her domain. But, yet she is a great person, she is the greatest queen in the world, at this time. Certainly, she is, that’s political speaking. But if she asked you for some little trinket on your wall, that you valued ever so high, you would give it to her. It would be an honor for you to do it. Sure, she is the queen of England.

140 And you would be honored, by the President. And everybody would talk about the humility of the queen of England, flying over to see a certain woman in Flagstaff, a little nobody. And the papers would pack it, and the news would flash it.

141 But, you know, the most important Person of all time, Jesus Christ, knocks at our door. And He is turned away, more than all the kings and potentates there ever was. That’s right. And you might accept Him and go out and say something about it, the outside world would laugh in your face. No news is going to . . .

142 Who could come to your house, any greater than Jesus Christ? Who could knock at your door, greater than Jesus Christ? Who could do that? The Son of God, who could knock at your house, who would be more important? And yet He knocks, day after day. And if you even accept Him, you’re called a fanatic. So, see how the world knows its own? That’s right. But now He wouldn’t come unless He had a reason to come.

143 And do you think the humility of President Johnson, or the queen of England, or any great person, how it would be displayed, of the humility of that great important person to knock at your door!

144 How about the humility of the Son of God? Who are we but sinners, filthy, “born in sin, shaped in iniquity, come to the world speaking lies?” And then the Son of God will come and knock at our door.

145 Now, the queen of England might ask you a favor. She might take something from you. So might the President, he might ask you to do things that you didn’t want to do. He might ask you for treasures that you didn’t want to give up, and which would mean nothing, just to him.

146 But Jesus is bringing something to you when He knocks. He is bringing a pardon. Don’t turn it down. For, as it was tried in our courts here, so will it be in the Kingdom of Heaven. If He knocked and brought the pardon, and you turned it down, and die in your sins, you’ll perish; though you had the honor of sitting in a meeting like this, though you had the honor attending the revival, or your church, and heard your pastor preach a Gospel message. And you had the audience, say, "Yes, I was there." Maybe, you, hard to tell what all you could say. "I heard the singing. I enjoyed it. I heard the testimonies. It was real." But you turned It down.

¹⁴⁷ What if I was a young man and found a young lady; she was beautiful, she was a Christian? She would make . . . She was every qualifi- . . . [Blank spot on tape—Ed.] You can't find no fault with It, but you've got to lay aside traditions of man. You say, "Oh, I believe That's right. I see, got set . . ." But you got to accept It. You . . . Then that woman becomes part of me. Then you become part of the Word, which is the Bride. If He is the Word, the Bride will be a Bride-Word. See, certainly will! See, you've got to accept It. You would . . . You could say what you want to, you could brag about the President; but usually when Jesus' turn comes to our door, we just turn Him aside. See, just we don't want nothing to do with Him. We say, "Well, some other day."

¹⁴⁸ What if you knocked at somebody's door? Now let's just turn the picture right around for a minute. What if you went and knocked on somebody's door, and you had something for them? And, after all, they were to you about like you would be to God; well, if you do, why, all right, but you got no strings tied. So when you knocked on somebody's door, and they peeped out the window, and shut the curtain; or either come to the door, and say, "Some other time!"

"Well, I'd like . . ."

¹⁴⁹ "I ain't got time this morning!" You know what you'd do? Probably the same thing I would do, and the rest of them, you wouldn't go back any more.

¹⁵⁰ But not Jesus. "I stand, and knock," continually knock. [Brother Branham continuously knocks on something—Ed.] See? "He that seeketh," not seek. "Seeketh! He that knocketh!" Knock, knock is a continuation, knocketh! See, "He that seeketh, he that knocketh, it shall . . ." Not just . . .

¹⁵¹ Like the parable of the unjust judge. The woman went and wanted avenge, revenge, but she couldn't get it. He . . . Continually she knocked and pleaded. And she said . . . "Just to get rid of her, I'll avenge her enemy."

¹⁵² How much more will the Heavenly Father? See, it ought to be us knocking at His door. It ought to have been Adam running up and down the garden, hollering, "Father! Father, where are You?" But instead, instead of that, it was God running up and down the garden, "Son! Son, where are you?" See, that just displays what we are. We're always hiding, instead of coming right out and confessing it. We try to run, hide behind something. That's just the nature of man, we have it that way. Yes, sir.

153 You would give these people the best you had, everything. But you wouldn't, you—you—you wouldn't accept Jesus. I ain't meaning you, but I mean the people here.

154 Or maybe you might say this, you may say, "Preacher, I just did that. I—I just opened my heart and let Jesus come in. I did that ten years ago. I did that twenty years ago." Well, that may be just exactly right, but is that all you done? See?

155 I want to ask you now. If you would invite anybody in your house, and then when you got inside the door . . . Somebody invited you in, rather, say, "Come in."

156 "Yes, I have a purpose, I'll go out of town and be honored, you see." That's the way a lot of people accept Christ. "I'll . . . I—I belong to the church. I belong to the big So-and-so place down here, where Doctor Ph. LL. belongs, you know. And it's the biggest church. The mayor goes there, and everything, you know. I—I belong to that church." They let Him in, just that much. "Yeah, I'll accept Him," see, for a personal gain.

157 But what then when Jesus comes into the heart? Many people accept Him 'cause they don't want to go to hell. But when Jesus comes into your heart, He wants to be Lord. Not just a Saviour; but Lord, also. Lord is "rulership." He comes in to—to take over.

Now you say, "Is that right, Brother Branham?" Sure.

158 What if—if I invited you at my house, and you come in the door? And you knocked at the door, and I looked outside, I said, "Yes, come on in. If you can help me, well, you do so. But now, when you come in now, I don't want you meddling around in my house. You stand right there at the door!"

159 Remember, our text is "doors" inside the door. Now, inside the human heart there is many little doors, and them little doors covers up a lot of things. Just to let Him in, that isn't all of it, when He comes in.

160 When I come in your house, if you welcome me in the door, why, if you'd say, "Come in, Brother Branham. I'm so glad to see you!"

161 I'd say, "Well, it's a privilege for me to come into your house!"

162 "Oh, won't you come over and sit down? Brother Branham, go through our house, make yourself at home!" Oh, my!

163 I'd go over to the refrigerator, get me one of those great big sandwiches, about like that, take off my shoes, and go in the bedroom and lay down. And I'd just have a—a real gastronomical jubilee, see.

Why? Because I felt welcomed. You made me welcome. Therefore I'd appreciate it if you made me welcome.

¹⁶⁴ But if I went in your house, and you told me, "You stand there at the door, now, don't you go to meddling around!" I wouldn't feel too welcome. Would you? No, see, you wouldn't feel welcome. Somebody invited you in, and said, "Now wait! Yea, come in, but stand right there!"

¹⁶⁵ Now, there is a little door when you come into the human heart. We'll just speak of a couple of them, see. We don't have time to go through all these doors, 'cause there is lots of them. See? But, say, the next ten minutes, let's speak of a couple, three doors.

¹⁶⁶ Now, on the right hand side of the human heart, when you walk into the door, there is a little door on the right side, and that's called, in there, the door of pride. Oh, my! "Don't You go to entering that door!" They don't want the Lord in there, on that door, that's pride. "I'm a blue blood. I take care! Oh, yes, now look, I tell you, I—I. . ." See, it's pride. "Don't You meddle in there!" Now, He can't feel welcome as long as you keep that pride door shut.

¹⁶⁷ He's got to humiliate you. See, that's what He comes in for. "You mean to tell me I have to go down there and—and act like the rest?" Well, you don't have to, that's one thing sure. "Well, I'll tell you, what do you think I'd do when I went to the business council the next time? What would I do if I met with my—my employer tomorrow? And that, I'd have to get that Spirit on me, and I'd jump up there, in the middle of my work, and go to speaking in tongues, oh, that would humiliate me. No, stay out of there!"

¹⁶⁸ See, there you are, see. Yeah, you'll let Jesus come in, you'll join church and put your name on, accept Jesus as your Saviour; but what about being your Lord, when He's got full sway? When He's Lord, He's got it all, belongs to Him; you, you are completely surrendered to Him now.

¹⁶⁹ But that little pride. "Oh, you mean, for us women, we're going to have to let our hair grow?" Well, that's what He said. "We're going to have to quit wearing manicure, or make-up stuff?" That's what He said. "Well, what do you think my sewing circle would? They'll call me old-fashion." Well, just keep your pride. Go ahead. He'll stand at the door, that's all the farther He can get.

¹⁷⁰ But when you're ready to open that door, let Him come in, He'll clean it out for you. Shorts will go out here in the garbage can, and make-up will go back to the garbage can, and the barber will starve to death if he just cut women's hair, to a real believer.

171 Now say, "That don't!" Oh, yes, it does, too. That's what the Bible said. That's right. See, there is a little word there, that you don't want Him meddle.

"Well, my pastor!"

172 I don't care what pastor said. That's what the Bible said, "It's a shame for a woman to do so."

173 "Well," you say, "we ought to teach us things, Brother Branham, is how to get the Holy Ghost, and how to be this, that." How you going to learn algebra if you don't know your ABC's? Don't know even how to, to act like, look like one, dress like one. It's a shame to see these women on the street today.

174 I went into a place yesterday, when, oh, some of the perverted gang come in. They, the men had hair in their eyes, come down and hung down on their back, and like legotards, like little kids wear to school, with great big old shoes on, mouth half open. You can tell they were delinquents. And walked in there like that, say, "We're French."

175 Who in the world would hire a man like that in his business? How they make a living? And I seen a couple of real boys sitting over there . . . They come from that university down there, this beatniks did, or I believe they call themself bugs or beatles, or something like that, some of that stuff coming from England. And then in there like that, who would hire a man like that to work for him? Would you put a man like that in your business, you businessmen? If you would, you're, there is something, you ain't got close enough to the Cross yet.

176 Look at these women out on the street, and it's a disgrace! Maybe innocent little women with these little bitty clothes on, see, well, it's a disgrace, the way they look. Well, you say, "Why, woman, you are committing adultery."

177 They say, "Wait a minute here, young man! I'm just as virtuous as I . . ." That might be so, in your own thoughts. And it might be so, proving even by a medical examination, that you might be.

178 But, remember, at the Day of the Judgment, you're going to answer for committing adultery. Jesus said, "Whosoever looketh upon a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart," and you presented yourself to him. See how the devil has got them blinded? It's a disgrace. It's a shame. You see, they—they got a spirit. It's a spirit that does that. It's an unholy spirit.

179 But a genuine Holy Spirit will make a woman dress decently and look holy.

180 My wife said to me, one time. We was going down the street, and we found a woman with a dress on, back in our country. It was a very strange thing, see, not too many Pentecostals back there. So, we find out she had a dress on. And she said, “Billy,” said, “I know some of them women. They sing in choirs down here at these churches.”

I said, “Sure.”

Said, “Well, and them claim to be Christians?”

I said, “Honey, look. See, we’re not . . .”

Said, “Why do our people?”

I said, “Look, honey, we are not of their—their race at all.”

She said, “What?” Said, “They’re Americans.”

I said, “Yeah, but we’re not.”

She said, “We’re not?”

I said, “No.”

¹⁸¹ I said, “When I go in Germany, I find a spirit of Germany. When I went in Finland . . .” At the sauna up there, many of you Finnish know, the women give the men the baths. So, that’s just a Finnish spirit. Mighty fine people, but, you find, wherever you go, you find a national spirit.

¹⁸² You go into a church and watch the pastor, if he’s real wild and carries on, the congregation will be the same. See? They take the spirit of one another instead of the Holy Spirit.

¹⁸³ That’s the reason we got so much perverted teaching of the Bible. Instead of coming back to the blueprint, they’ve taken the spirit of some denomination. See? But the Word is just as foreign to them as It was in the days when Jesus come forth, introducing the real true Gospel. They said, “He’s a devil. He’s Beelzebub.” See? But there you get it.

¹⁸⁴ And she said, “Well, then, we’re not Americans, what are we?”

¹⁸⁵ I said, “Our Kingdom is of Above.” See, we are free, born again. The Kingdom of God is within you. See, act like up There, you’re delegates from There. I said, “We’re citizens here, living here in the flesh. But, our spirits, we are pilgrims and strangers.” We are foreign to the world now, even our own nation, for we have accepted the invitation when it knocked at our heart, to become part of Him, His Word. And the Word fixes us, makes us live and makes us act like Christians.

¹⁸⁶ Some time ago, in the South, a little story. There was a king . . . or, a buyer. They sold slaves. That was in time of—of segregation, and they had slaves in the South. They was a . . . They’d go by and buy them, just like you would a used car, off of a lot.

¹⁸⁷ Now, I am an integrationist, absolutely . . . I mean a segregationalist. I am a segregationalist. Because, I don’t care how much they argue, you cannot be a Christian and be an integrationist. That's exactly right. God even separates His nations. He separates His people. "Come out from among them!" He's a . . . He is a segregationist. "Don't even . . . Touch not their unclean things!" He pulled Israel, that Jewish race, out of every, all the races in the world. He is a segregationist.

188 But I don't believe that any man is to be a slave. God made man; man made slaves. I don't believe one should rule over other, any race, color, or anything.

189 But there is a segregation, the Bride of Christ is segregated from the rest of the churches, and that's exactly right: church natural, and the Church spiritual; church carnal, the Church the Word. It always has been. "Jesus came to His own, His own received Him not; but as many as received Him!"

190 So this, used to be buyers, brokers go by and buy these slaves. One time there was one come to a great plantation, and he watched them. The slaves were hard beaten, and everything, you know. They was away from home; they'd never go back again. The Boers, the Hollanders, had went over and got them, brought them here and sold them. And they'd never see papa again, mama again, never see their babies again. They bred them with one another; picked a big man, breed him to a big woman, away from his own wife, to make bigger slaves. Oh, God will make them answer for that someday! That's right. That isn't right.

191 Like Abraham Lincoln said one time, when he got off a boat there in New Orleans, picked off his stovepipe hat . . .

192 He seen three or four little negroes, coming down, standing there with no shoes on, where they had . . . A cow had laid and got—got the frost off the ground, they was standing after running the cows in. Their little old feet bursted, bleeding. They was singing, "You got shoes, I got shoes, and all God's children has got shoes."

193 When he got off the boat down there, walked up to the bull pen, there was a great big negro standing up there, whipping him around, testing his heart. And run him up and down the street, with a whip behind him; then check his heart, see if he was all right. His poor little wife standing there, two or three kids under her arms like that; to sell him, to breed him to a bigger woman. Old Abraham Lincoln stuck that under his hat . . . his hat under his arm, like that, and hit his fist, he said, "That's wrong! And someday I'll hit that, if it costs my life." And yonder, in a museum in Chicago, lays a dress with the blood on it, that freed that negro from that.

194 And I say that sin and things is wrong! God help me to hit it, and all other ministers of the Gospel. We are born free, children of God. We have no business for any creed or cult to run us into a World Council of churches. We are free-born man, in the Holy Ghost. We have a right. We come out of such stuff as that, to be pentecostal. That's right. Now we are free. We don't have to be bound down to those things again.

¹⁹⁵ But this buyer said, looking across his slaves, a hundred or something, of them, on a big plantation, he said, "Say!" One little fellow there, they didn't have to whip him; his chest out, and his chin up, right on the job! Said, "Say! I want to buy him."

¹⁹⁶ He said, "Oh, no!" The owner said, "He's not for sale. Huh-uh."

He said, "Well, is he a slave?"

Said, "Yeah."

¹⁹⁷ He said, "Well, what makes him so different?" Said, "Do you feed him different?"

He said, "No, they all eat out there in the galley, together."

Said, "Is he the boss over them?"

Said, "No, he's just a slave."

"Well," said, "what makes him different?"

¹⁹⁸ Said, "You know, I wondered that, myself. But," said, "you know, over in the homeland where they come from, in Africa, that boy's father is the king of a tribe. And though he's an alien, he conducts himself like a king's son."

¹⁹⁹ Oh, I thought, what a thing for Christianity! Women, stop that wearing them clothes like that! Men, stop that telling them smutty jokes and all that stuff! We are sons and daughters of the King. Dress like a queen, dress like a— a lady. Act like a gentleman, don't let your hair grow down like this. The Bible said, "It's wrong (nature teaches you) for a man to have long hair. And it's a disgrace and a common thing for even a woman to pray with her hair cut." And how about these? "It's a— it's an abomination for a woman to put on a garment that pertains to a man." The great unchanging God doesn't change. But yet today it's just as loose as the rest of our nation is. Shame! Let's act like sons and daughters of God. Let's live like it. We are, we are sons of a King. We are. We are. Right now this bunch of mess and dirt and filth, around here, people call themselves "Christians" and still acting like that!

²⁰⁰ But remember, we got a knock one day, and opened Him in, pride and all left. Amen. I don't care what they call me!

Oh, I guess I'm just a little old-fashion,
But my Saviour was old-fashion, too.

201 Is that right? You've heard the song. Be old-fashion! Don't try to pattern after somebody else. He is your Example. Try to be like Him, and the Spirit in you will help you to do that. Make your life like His.

202 Yeah, there is a door there. I want to call another door. I get too wound up. There is another door there, just next to that door, going around the right-hand side, and that door is the door to your private life. Oh! Oh, you don't want Him messing with that. "Now, if I want to go out to a little cocktail party, what is it to You? What church is going to tell me what I'm going to do?" Uh-huh, there you are, see. "A tenth of my wages? Who is going to tell me what to do? That's my own private life! I make this money. I have my own life. I'll wear shorts if I want to. That's my own American privilege." That is true. Sure. Right.

203 But if you're a lamb, and not a goat, see, lambs is what He is after. They'll be separated someday.

204 A sheep has wool. That's the only thing it has. And it can't manufacture that wool. We're not asked to manufacture the fruit of the Spirit, but to bear the fruit of the Spirit. And as long as it's a sheep, it'll bear. It don't have to manufacture. The glands and everything in it is sheep, it'll make wool because the inside of him has the glands and the adrenalin and stuff it takes to make wool.

205 And when you are a Christian, you'll cope with the Word. I don't care what anybody else says. You don't have to work up nothing, and bring down nothing, pull, pump up. You're a Christian. You just automatically bear the fruit of the Spirit. See? See, and that's the way it is. See?

206 But, people today, they don't want you fooling with their private life.

207 Only thing you do, just open up every door around, now say, "Come on in, Jesus." Watch what happens. When you see in the Book, you're supposed to do this, you'll do it. Why? You're a sheep, to begin with, then.

208 But if you just want to set, keep Him at the door, just say, "I've joined church. I'm as good as you. See, I accepted Christ." Maybe that's just what you done. But did you make Him Lord? See?

209 Now, the Lord cannot sit down a Book of rules and say a Word, and then come around and deny It. And if you say you got the Holy Ghost, and the Bible says a certain thing to do, and you say, "Oh, I don't believe That." You just remember, that spirit in you is not the Holy Spirit, 'cause He can't deny Himself. That's right. He can't deny Himself. He wrote the Word, and He watches over It, to perform It. See? So it's not the Holy . . .

210 It's a spirit, all right. It might be a—a spirit of the church. It might be the spirit of the pastor. It might be the spirit of the world. It might be. I don't know what it is, but, whatever it is, it might be a denominational spirit, "I'm Methodist. I'm Baptist. I'm Presbyterian. I'm Pentecostal. I'm this." That's Pentecost.

211 Now remember, let me straighten it; pentecost is not an organization, pentecost is an experience that you receive. You Methodists, Baptists, Catholics, and all, can experience pentecost. You can't join pentecost, 'cause there is no way to join it.

212 I've been in the Branham family for fifty-five years. You know, they never did ask me to become a Branham. I was born, a Branham.

213 And that's how you're a Christian, you are born a Christian. That's right, now.

214 Oh, that private life! "Oh, I tell you, my pastor goes to these dances, and we do the twist. They have it." All right. See? "Don't you come telling me what I can do and what I can't do." All right, see, you won't let Him in.

215 Just let Him in one time, and then go back to the twist or the rock-and-roll, or whatever you're going to do, see what you can do. You can't do it. Let Him in one time, and then start to put on a pair of shorts, some of you women.

216 I know I'm taking you a long time, but I want to say one more thing, if it's all right, in this regard.

217 I suppose, the greatest meeting the Lord ever let me hold for Him was in Bombay, where I had around five hundred thousand, but, and two hundred and some thousand in—in Africa, Durban, at the race track. That afternoon, I said, after they had seen such great marvelous thing that our gracious Lord come down and done, I said, "The missionaries taught you the Word, but the Word is quickened and made alive. What He says has to come to life." And—and then when there was twenty-five thousand healings taking place at one time, and load after load of good old chairs there; just one simple little prayer, they had seen the Holy Spirit just . . . Those people that didn't even know who they were and where they come from, that's all they wanted to see. See?

218 And I asked, "How many wants to receive Christ?" There was thirty thousand stood to their feet, blanket natives, packing idols.

219 Doctor Bosworth, Doctor Baxter and them, begin weeping. And Brother Bosworth run up, said—said, "Brother Branham, this is your coronation day."

220 Brother Baxter said, “Brother Branham, I wonder, I think they meant physical healing.”

221 That boy was on his hands and knees. And the Holy Spirit told him where he come from, what had happened, said, “You’ll talk. Think about your brother, he’s about a half a mile back there. He was riding on a yellow goat, and he hurt his leg.” I said, “But, THUS SAITH THE LORD, he is healed.” Here come the boy, with the crutches over his hands, like that. And take them about twenty minutes for a militia to quieten them down.

222 Then this boy, on his hands and feet, like that, down, couldn’t even raise up, naked. Oh, my, such a horrible thing! He thought he was coming up there to tourists, you know, to kind of do the—the jungle dance. And I took the chain and shook it. I said, “If I could help that poor creature, and wouldn’t do it, I’d be a . . . I wouldn’t be fit to stand back here. But,” I said, “I can’t help him. But now I have a little gift, I can just pull it in gear, whatever the Lord says.”

223 And when the Lord showed, told him who he was, said, “His mother and father is sitting out in there, they’re Zulus.” And said, “They’re thin, unusual.” A Zulu will average three hundred pound, per man. So then said, “They’re unusual. But this boy was born in a Christian home, because on his . . . on the righthand side, as you go in the door, there is a picture of Christ, in the little thatch hut.” And that was exactly right. His mother and father raised up. “And that’s his name.” That’s who he was, and everything. They couldn’t understand. I looked back and I seen him standing, in a vision there, just as straight as he could be. Never raised up, in his life, he was born like that. I said, “The Lord Jesus makes him whole.”

224 He wasn’t even in his right mind, trying to go, “uh, ba, ba, ba,” like that.

225 And I got a hold of the chain, and shook it like that. I said, “Jesus Christ, son, makes you whole. Stand up on your feet.” There he raised up. The tears running down, and off his black belly, as he went down like that. I seen thirty thousand blanket natives give their hearts to Jesus Christ.

226 When at a Kiwanis Club, I said now . . . And they tell me I was “going to become a holy roller” when I left the Baptist church, so I could fellowship with all people. They said, “Well, you’ll become a holy-roller,” I sat. Bunch of my Baptist brethren said. I said, “You’ve sent missionaries in there, for the last hundred and fifty years, what did I find them? Still packing idols.” I said, “But the power of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, thirty thousand received Christ at one time.”

227 Now I want to say to you women, you know what happened to them women? I said, “Right on the grounds where you’re standing, the Holy Spirit will fill you.” And when they raised their hands to accept Christ as their Saviour, and when they walked away from there; naked, now, nothing but just a little patch, clout, in front. And when they walked away from there, they folded their arms like this, because they was in presence of man, after they had accepted Christ.

228 Now how can we, sisters, how can we in this nation where we claim to believe and be Christians, and every year they take more off? When, that person never even heard the Name of Christ, but just accepted Him in their heart. No, you couldn’t tell them they were naked, they didn’t know it. But they covered themselves up like this, to walk away. The next day, or two, you would find them with clothes on, of some kind. Oh, my!

229 There is something wrong somewhere. It’s a twisting up of theology. The power of the resurrection of Jesus Christ, like He did to the man who called “Legion,” we found him clothed and in his right mind. And I begin to believe that it’s a spirit upon the people that drives them into that Americanism and Frenchism, and all kinds of worldism and churchism. But let them once come to that Master, and they feel that knock at the door, they’ll put clothes on and act like women and men, and they’ll be born-again Christians. Amen. Yes.

230 Now I’m done, twenty minutes until twelve, just a—just a few minutes, let me bypass some. Just a moment, some Scriptures, I’d like to open one more door. Would it be all right?

231 The next door, to there, is faith. See, your private life. . . door of pride, your private life, now let’s open faith. Just a whole ring of them, see, but let’s go into faith.

232 You know, some time ago I was in the hospital and a woman going under an operation. She called me, she said, “Brother Branham, I’m a backslider. Would you pray for me?”

233 I said, “Yes, ma’am, I’d be glad to.” I said, “You’re a backslider?”
“Yeah.”

234 I said, “Now let’s just wait just a minute. Let me read the Scriptures to you.”

235 There was a lady laying there in a bed, looked at me, real funny; her, and her son about twenty years old, a regular Ricky, and standing there looking at me like that.

236 And I said, “Yes, ma’am,” I said. I read the Scriptures to her, “Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow. Though they be red like crimson, be white like wool.” And when I read that to her, I said, “If you’ve strayed away, see, you’ve got away from God, but God never got away from you, or you wouldn’t be calling for me.” She started crying. I said, “We’ll pray.”

²³⁷ That lady over in the next bed, said, “Wait a minute! Wait a minute there!”

I said, “Yes, ma’am?”

She said, “Pull that curtain!”

And I said, “Aren’t you a Christian?”

She said, “We are Methodist!”

²³⁸ I said, “Well, what has that got to do with it? See, that’s no more than saying you was a—you was a colt, if you was in a pig pen, see.” I said, “That don’t mean a thing.” See?

²³⁹ But, you see, that’s where it’s come, that self-righteous. “That’s against our faith!” I said the . . . “We don’t want Divine healing in our church, or that kind of stuff.” See, see what I mean? See, they won’t let in that door. “That’s against our faith.”

²⁴⁰ There is only one Faith. “One Faith, one Lord, one baptism.” That Faith!

My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour Divine;
Now hear me while I pray,
Take all my unbelief away,

²⁴¹ Sin! Sin, there is only one sin, that’s unbelief. A man that drinks isn’t a sinner. See, that—that—that, see, isn’t sin. It isn’t a—it isn’t a sin to drink. It isn’t a sin to commit adultery. To lie, to steal, that isn’t sin. That’s the attributes of unbelief. If you was a believer, you wouldn’t do that, see.

²⁴² There is only two, you’re an unbeliever or a believer, see, one or the other. You don’t do all these things and religious orders like that, just because you’re an unbeliever; if you’re a believer, it’s the Word you believe in, ’cause Christ is the Word. See? And so you’re just an unbeliever because that you believe some tradition, or some dogmas that’s been added to the Bible, or something, and denominations do. But a real believer stays right with that Word. And God works right through that Word, right through to make It come to pass, in this generation that we live in.

²⁴³ And now notice, and you say, “Oh, I . . . Brother Branham, the Lord . . .” Well, that’s all right, there was many uncircumcised Philistines went one time, too. And a bunch of Egyptians tried to follow Moses across the—the Red Sea, but it finally . . . “As Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, well, we find the same thing in the last day," the Bible said.

244 Now just a little further. Jesus said here, in this—this age, "Because thou sayest that, 'I am rich, and increased in goods.'" Just look how we are today, richest the church ever was! And, well, you know, you Pentecosts would be a lot better off if you was out there with a tambourine, on the corner, like your fathers and mothers was. But you've got better churches than the rest of them now, fastest growing in the world; but where is that Spirit of God that used to be among us? You left out the real thing. "Because you say, 'I am rich.'"

245 Remember, this is Pentecostal it's speaking to, 'cause the Pentecostal age is the last age. See, all this revival we've had, there is no other organization starting up. There won't be. This is the end. The wheat's matured now. It's come up through the leaves, and stalk, and husk, and it's out to the wheat now. See, won't be no more. They started a little Latter Rain, but it just fell right in; anything else will. They'll. This is the wheat is coming forth. Notice.

246 "And because you say, 'I am rich, and increased in goods, have need of nothing,' and knowest not that thou art miserable, wretched, blind, naked, and don't know it; I counsel of thee . . ." Oh, my! "I knock at your door." [Brother Branham knocks on something—Ed.] "Laodicea, I knock at your door, and counsel to come to Me, and—and buy gold tried in the fire; white raiment, that your nakedness not be shown."

247 Take off these things, and put on like you should, see, the righteousness of Christ, the Words. Not my righteousness; His righteousness!

248 "And I also counsel thee to—to come, get some eyesalve, that you might anoint your eyes, that you might see. Eyesalve!"

249 I'm a Kentuckian. I was born down in the mountains, and we used to have a little old place up in the attic. And us kids had boosted up a—a little old pole ladder, that we went up every night. And we laid down. They had to put a piece of canvas over the top of us when it snowed. Well, the stars, old clapboard shingles . . .

250 How many knows what a clapboard shingle is? Well, brother, why didn't I wear my overalls up here? I'm right at home, see. Well, the old clapboard shingles!

251 How many know what a straw mattress is? Now what do you know! I thought I felt awful religious about something. Well, I guess I am right at home now. That's good. And I never knowed nothing else till just a few years ago.

252 How many knows what an old lamp is, old chimney, know? That was the big old moon, and owl on the side. They used to have the littlest hand in the house, have to clean that old churn, you know. I used to have to take an old splasher, and it'd all splash over me; so I took that lamp chimney and turned it over there, to keep it from splashing. Yes, indeed.

253 Now, my grandpa was a trapper. My mother's mother come from the reservations. He married an Indian girl from the Cherokee reservations there in Kentucky and Tennessee, you know where, the Cherokee valley. And, they, he—he hunted and trapped, all the time, that was—that was the way he made his living.

254 And us kids laying up there, why, sometimes it get real cold. And that breeze coming through there, we would get cold in our eyes, and—and our eyes would stick shut at night, you know. Mama called it “matter.” I don't—I don't know what that is, but a cold would get in your eyes, and it'd get cold. And she'd say, “You got matter in your eyes,” because of the—of the, you know, the breeze circling through there, the draft come across at night. Our eyes would swell shut.

255 And mama would get there at the ladder, in the morning, when she got the biscuits made. She would have the sorghum molasses setting on the table. And she would say, “Billy!”

I'd say, “Yes, mama?”

“You and Edward come on down.”

256 “Mama, I can't see!” I called my brother, we called him, “Humpy.” I said, “He can't see, either. See, our eyes had got matter in them.”

She would say, “All right, just a minute.”

257 And grandpa, when he'd catch a coon. How many knows what a raccoon is? That's what, and she'd . . . He'd catch a coon, he'd get the fat off of it and put it in a can. And that coon grease was a cure-all in our family. They'd give it to us for a bad cold, with turpentine on it, and coal oil. We'd swallow it for a sore throat. Then get that coon grease hot, she would come and massage our eyes, and our eyes would come open. See, it was coon grease that did it. See?

258 Now, brother, sister, we've went through a cold spell, in the church. That's right, a lot of religious draft has come through, everybody has caught cold. A lot of people has got their eyes all closed up, and there is a big World Council of Churches coming up, up here, is going to force every one of you into it. They are getting away from that Word, our own groups are. I am duty bound to a Message; not to be different, but because of love. Love is corrective. Come back! Stay away from that thing! You ministering brothers, I don't care what your groups does, stay away from it! Stay out of it! It's the mark of the beast, stay away from it! See, Jesus is knocking in this Laodicea age. See where they put Him out? He is trying to get to individuals, not—not organizations and groups of people. He is trying to get one here, and one there, and one there, trying. "All that I love, I chasten."

²⁵⁹ As the little brother had the vision here, and said he had the vision. And said, "This same Light that you receive, cause your death, too." See?

²⁶⁰ "As many as I love, I chasten; be zealous, and return. I stand at the door, and knocking." Now, look, coon grease won't do this any good.

But there is a Fountain filled with Blood,
 Drawn from Emmanuel's veins,
 Where sinners plunged beneath the flood,
 Lose all their guilty stains.

That dying thief rejoiced to see
 That Fountain in his day;
 There may I, though vile as he,

²⁶¹ He opened my eyes, with His eyesalve. His Spirit came down and warmed the Bible, His eyesalve. I couldn't see It. I was just a local, Baptist pastor. But one day He sent His Spirit down, not the coon grease did He get hot, but He sent the Holy Spirit and fire! A little eyesalve raked across my Bible—my Bibles. . . and I could see with my eye, I mean raked across my eyes so I could see my Bible. And I seen that, "He was the same yesterday, today, and forever. Let every man's word be a lie, and Mine be true. I stand at the door, and knock."

²⁶² One more little story. Have we got time? Yeah, yeah, then I'll go, see.

²⁶³ There was an old darkie down there in the South. And, his pastor, I knew him, a nice old fellow. We called him Gabe. His name was Gabriel, and we just called him Gabe. He always, pastor and I, we—we went hunting, a whole lot. He was an old colored brother, and we went out hunting. And so old Gabe liked to hunt better than anybody I ever knowed, but he was a poor shot. So, one day his pastor and him went hunting.

²⁶⁴ And we could never get old Gabe to line up to church. He just wouldn't do it. He wouldn't come to church. He said, "Ah, I's don't go down there where the hypocrites is."

²⁶⁵ I said, "But, Gabe, as long as you stay out, they're bigger than you. You're hiding behind them, see." I said, "You are hiding behind them. You're smaller than they are; they do go down and make an effort, see."

266 And so he said, “I—I—I—I thinks a lot of you, Mr. Bill. But,” said, “I—I—I—I know old Jones goes down there, and he ain’t nothing; he shoots craps, and all that.”

267 I said, “That’s all right, Gabe. See, that’s all right. But, remember, Jones has to answer for that; you don’t have to, you see. If you just go . . .” I said, “You’ve got a good pastor.”

268 “Oh, Pastor Jones is one of the finest man there is in the country!”

269 I said, “Let him be your example, if you can’t look farther than that. Let him be your example.”

270 So one day Brother Jones said, took old Gabe hunting, and said, “We got more rabbits and birds, that day, than we could hardly pack.” And said, “Come in in the evening.” Said, “Old Gabe was coming behind, and all loaded down, you know, like that.” And his wife was a real, loyal Christian. She had a place right there, a Holy Ghost filled woman, and she always had her post of duty. So he was . . . Old Gabe was coming behind, you know. And Pastor Jones said he looked around, he could see, “Old Gabe kept looking over his shoulder, like that. The sun setting,” said, “getting real low, getting cool.” Said, “After a while,” said he was walking along, said, “old Gabe come up. He had his shotgun barrel hanging full of rabbits and birds, and things.” Said, “He tapped the pastor on the shoulder, and said, ‘Pastor?’”

Said, turned around, said, “Yeah, Gabe, what’s the matter?”

271 So he looked, and great big tears running off of his black cheeks, where his beard was turning gray. He says, “Pastor, I’s been walking along this bank here, for about a half hour.” Said, “I’ve been watching that sun go down.” Said, “You know, these gray whiskers of mine, and my hair turning,” said, “you know, my sun is setting too, pastor.”

272 Said, “That’s right, Gabe.” And he just stopped and turned around, said, “What’s the matter with you?”

273 He said, “My sun is setting, too.” He said, “You know what?” Said, “I got to thinking,” he said, “as I was walking along back there.” He said, “You know,” said, “the Lord must love me.”

Said, “Sure, He does, Gabe.”

274 Said, “You know, I’m a poor shot.” Said, “I couldn’t hit nothing, but,” said, “we—we really needed this meat at home.” And said, “Just look at the big fine bunch of game that He give me, these birds and these rabbits.” He said, “I got enough to keep us all next week.” Said, “He must have loved me, ’cause I can’t hit nothing, you know.” Said, “I couldn’t hit it, but just look what He give me.” Then he said, “He must love me, or He wouldn’t have give me this.”

Said, “That’s right.”

275 And he said, "Well, I had a strange little knock at my door, down there. He told me to turn around, said, 'Gabe, your sun is setting, too.'" Said, "Pastor, you know what I done, pastor?" He said, "I made Him a promise."

276 He said, "Gabe, I want to ask you something." Said, "What sermon did I preach that made you feel that way?" He said, pastor, or said, "Now wait a minute," said, "what—what—what choir sang?"

277 He said, "Oh, I sure do love that singing down at church, pastor." He said, "I love every message you preach, 'cause it comes right from that good Book, and I know it's right. But," said, "it wasn't that." Said, "He just knocked, and I looked around here, and see how good He was to me, what He give me." He said, "Sunday morning, I is going to walk right up in front there where you standing." He said, "I'm going to give you my right hand," said, "because I done give my heart to the Lord, right down around the hill there." He said, "I is going to be baptized, and take my place right beside of my wife. And I'm going to stay there until the Lord calls me higher." See, he just happened to look around and see how good God had been to him.

278 I'm a missionary. If you could look out through the eyes that I'm looking through now, and see an Indian place, them little hungry people, mothers starving on the street, their little kids can't even cry no more, from hunger, and just think of what we had here today. Look at the cars you come in. Look at the clothes you are wearing. Look how rich you are. Friend, can't you feel that little knock there somewhere?

Let us pray.

279 With our heads bowed, and our hearts, as the minutes now are fleeting, of about seven minutes until midday. My brother, sister, science tells us it's less than three minutes until midnight. Now if you can just look around, and just think for a minute. Your little children setting there by you. How many little spastics . . .

280 Look at your nice wife, brother, and think how many man that's worth millions of dollars, and loves a woman with all of his heart, she is a barfly. He would give his cold million to have that woman love him the way your wife loves you. And you, wife, how many women . . .

281 How many mothers here this morning with their little children, how many fathers; why, my, there is many a man looking at a crib, a little old drawed-up, poor little thing, crippled, and look at what fine little children you got. See? And many a little old, maybe . . .

282 O God! There is so many things, if you'd just look. He has been so good to us Americans. Now can't you just feel that you'd like to have a little salve, this morning, "Open my eyes just a little farther, Lord, open my eyes”? As our sister so lovely sang, “His eye is on the sparrow, just a little sparrow, and I know He watches me.”

283 Now He is watching right at you now. Can you just hear, down somewhere, a little knock like this, [Brother Branham knocks on something—Ed.], “I’m visiting, this morning”? It’s the greatest honor that could ever be paid, if you can feel that knocking at your heart.

284 Will you just raise your hand, say, “By this, Lord, by Your help and Your grace, from today on, I’ll live as close to You as I know how to live. That’s all I know how to ask You”? God bless you. God bless you. “By Your help and grace, today, from today on, I’ll never forget this.”

“Lo, I stand at the door, and knock. If any man . . .”

285 Now, remember, where was He knocking, at the barn? No. At the bar? No. Where is He knocking? At the church!

286 “If any man will hear My Voice, and open unto Me, I will come in and sup with him, and he with Me.”

287 Dear God, this little broken, mixed up, few words that’s been said this morning, somehow let the Holy Spirit interpret them to the hearts of the people.

288 Now there was many, Lord, maybe out of this hundred here was twenty or thirty people raised their hands. I have no way of knowing just what they needed, Lord. But I know that midday is just a few minutes off, and so is the Coming of the Lord; yet, before this snow melts from the ground, we may be summonsed, and this may be the moment that will change the whole future of whether they be left here or go up.

289 Dear God, humbly we accept Jesus, we accept all of His Words. Fill us, Lord, fill us with Thy Holy Spirit, that our life just automatically would bear the fruit. Grant it, Lord.

290 Forgive us of our many mistakes. Oh, we are so full of them, Lord. And we have nothing that we can offer, Lord, ’cause, everything that we got, You’ve give it to us. As Gabe said, in the little story we just told, “You, You sure love us, Lord, or You wouldn’t do this.” And, to think, these people set here since early this morning, sitting here since eight o’clock, is four hours that they set in here. They love You, Lord. They love You. Now, Father, will You just send the salve of the Holy Spirit, open our eyes. May we . . .

291 These who are here in the city, may they rush to that revival tonight, may there be such an outpouring! Grant it, Lord. May an old-fashion revival start here in the city. Grant it. Bless every man that’s putting forth, every one of Your servants throughout the world, that’s putting forth an effort. Be with them, Lord, and help them.

²⁹² Open our eyes that we might see, more and more, the likeness of Christ. Grant it, Lord. Forgive us of our sins.

²⁹³ And now these who raised their hands, Father, I commit them to You. Receive them. Now I quote Thy Own Word, Lord, which, "Heavens and earth will fail, but," You said, "he," which is a personal pronoun, "he that heareth My Words . . ." Lord, they might have been broke up and simple, but somebody heard them. The Seed fell. "He that heareth My Words and," conjunction, "believeth on Him that sent Me," because He did this, "he hath (present tense) everlasting Life, and shall not in the future come to the judgment, but has passed from death unto Life." They raised their hands, Lord. They broke the (every) scientific law; gravitation holds our hands down. But they proved that there is a spirit in them, that could listen to a knock at the door, and reach out with their right hand towards Heaven. Now open the door. Open, Lord, and come in. We are Yours. Receive us, in Jesus Christ's Name. Amen.

I love Him, I love Him
Because He first loved me
And purchased my salvation
On Calvary's tree.

²⁹⁴ You love Him? Wonder if we could just close our eyes, just a moment. Now from our hearts, with our hands up.

I love Him, I love Him
Because . . .

²⁹⁵ We're accepting Your knock, this morning, Lord. My hands are up. All of our hands are up, Lord.

And . . .

Now come in, Lord Jesus. Come into our hearts and sup with us, and we'll sup with Thee.

Calvary's tree!

²⁹⁶ Do you love Him? Oh, I think He is so wonderful! Don't you? Don't you feel His Presence just kind of scouring you out? I feel real religious right now, just—just feel real good, something about it.

My faith looks up to Thee,
Thou Lamb of Calvary,
Saviour Divine;
Now hear me while I pray,
Take all my sins away,
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine!

297 Now I want you, when we hum this next verse of that beautiful hymn, old hymn of the church, I want you to shake hands with somebody. Just remain in your seat, just say, "God bless you, brother. God bless you, sister. So glad to be with you here!" Let's do that. [Brother Branham hums My Faith Looks Up To Thee—Ed.] God bless you, Carl, glad to be here. . . ? . . .

298 Just think, Methodist's hands caught Pentecostal's, Baptist's caught Presbyterian's.

O let . . . from this day
Be wholly Thine!

299 Now as we sing slowly now, too, from the bottom of your heart. You know, after a scouring, scolding Message, I think it's good to get in the Spirit and sing, the sweetness of the Holy Spirit.

300 "Oh how sweet it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" The Bible said, "It's like the anointing oil that was on Aaron's beard, that run down to the hems of his skirts." You're wonderful people up here. I hope to get back to see you again before Jesus calls me, or the Millennium. If I don't, I'll see you across the river over yonder. I'll meet you at the river. Amen. It's an appointment.

While life's dark maze I tread,
And grief around me spread,
Be Thou my Guide;
Bid darkness turn to day, (That little Light they talk about.)
Wipe sorrow's fears away,
O let me from this day
Be wholly Thine!

301 Every door open! Oh, just touch the little button, and watch them all go right around the circle; say, "Come in, Lord Jesus, be my Lord, my all."

O let me from this day (not, let You stand at the door,)
Be wholly Thine!

302 You that raised your hands and wants to be farther led towards the Lord, I ask you to go down to the revival tonight. And I'm sure the pastor there would take you from here to the inn. He has six pence, or whatever was given, to take care, and wine and oil to pour in. He can finish the job.

303 God bless you now. I'll turn the service back to, I guess, Brother Williams, or ever who is . . .
